Mark Elliot Zuckerberg was born on May 14th, 1984, in White Plains, New York, into a comfortable, well-educated family, and raised in the nearby village of Dobbs Ferry. His father, Edward Zuckerberg, ran a dental practice attached to the family's home. His mother, Karen, worked as a psychiatrist before the birth of the couple's four children—Mark, Randi, Donna and Arielle. Zuckerberg developed an interest in computers at an early age.

He is the creator of the social media site Facebook. He studied Psychology and Computer Science at Harvard University, where he created Facebook. His invention led to his becoming Time magazine's Person of The Year 2010.

Zuckerberg was a genius at everything he did in his youth. He spoke several languages and was a highly skilled computer programmer in High School. Also, he created his first network while he was in High School to connect all of the computers in his father's dental clinic.

He launched Facebook from his Harvard room in February 2004. It was the start of a social network that would connect half a billion people worldwide and make him the world's youngest billionaire.

Mark Zuckerberg has been one of the most influential people on the planet. He was even invited to have dinner by the former president of the USA, Barack Obama.

Mr Zuckerberg's current problems began on March 17th, after a British newspaper declared that Cambridge Analytica had obtained detailed data about some 50m Facebook users and shared this information and analysis with third parties, including Donald Trump's presidential campaign. Many people wonder <sup>(1)</sup> whether <sup>(2)</sup> this scandal could permanently damage Facebook's reputation and commercial prospects.
