PARTE I. COMPRENSIÓN DE UN TEXTO. (1 PUNTO: 0,25 CADA RESPUESTA)

Lea el texto atentamente y elija TRUE (Verdadero) o FALSE (Falso) según el texto.

If you were a student at one of the world's best universities, would you leave before you graduated to open a business? In 1975, a student did this and about 30 years later he was the richest and most successful businessman in the world. His name? Bill Gates.

When Gates was young, he loved reading and playing games like Monopoly. Gates' parents thought he was bored at school, so they found a better school for him. Gates was a confident and clever boy. He was excellent at maths and science, and also drama.

At school he met a shy boy named Paul Allen. They were both very interested in computers and were soon best friends. Their first business –creating a computer programme about traffic – brought them $20,000. Gates was only 17 years old. Gates and Allen wanted to open a new business, but Gates' parents wanted him to be a lawyer. So, he went to study law at Harvard University. He would probably be an excellent lawyer today, but he didn't stay at the university for a long time: in 1975 he left Harvard to open a company with Allen. If you have got a computer, you will know the name of their company. It's Microsoft and it has become famous all over the world.
